

STEM Week Homework – STEM Selfies

For this year's STEM (Science, Technology, Engineer and Maths) Week Homework competition, we'd like you to investigate how STEM is important in the local area. When you are out and about, look out for things around where you live, places you visit or around school that involve Science, Technology, Engineering or Maths in action. Then take a STEM Selfie (or ask someone to take your picture with it) of the most unusual.

Please bring your picture into school (no bigger than A4) with a hashtag of no more than 50 characters explain what is happening. Please make sure each entry is clearly marked with your name and class and returned to school by Wednesday 3rd April.

These will then be displayed in school and prizes given in Friday's STEM assembly.

You could also ask an adult to share the picture on the school Facebook page or Twitter account. Happy hunting!
