

Dear Year 4,

Well here we are... the end of the first week away from school! The teachers are all missing seeing you a lot. It has been great to catch up with a few people this week in school. The weather has been fantastic so we hope that you have all managed to spend some time outside.

We have been looking at Mathletics, Times Tables Rock Stars and Get Epic. Remember to keep logging into these sites and completing the tasks we have set for you. It's really important to keep learning. Don't forget that on Get Epic you need to spend at least 20 minutes reading each book and longer for some books.

Hopefully, you have found time to find some of the homework packs from the school website. Look for the Year 4 section in the Activities to Complete during the School Closure tab. Most of you took a green Home Learning book home, use this to record any work that you complete. We will look at these when we return to school.

For some extra reading this week, why not have a look at Mr Farooqi's recommendation this week.... The Accidental Prime Minister by Tom McLaughlin. It is a funny story about a boy called Joe who becomes the Prime Minister. What would you do with all that power? Hats for Cats? No homework ever? How would you deal with people who didn't like you being in charge?

Have a good weekend and stay fit and healthy!!!

See you all soon!!!!

From Mr Farooqi, Mr Edwards and Mr Cook
